We lived this need to weep your loss, You dwell in that safe place in blessed time in profound communion with all of our hearts, Where no storm or night or pain can reach you. We were supported by your prayers, bearing you.” ‘John O’Donoghue’ with you your expectations, your questions, as well as your fears. As Pope Francis requested two years ago, a long process of listening and discernment was initiated, open to all the People of God, no one being excluded, to “journey together” under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, missionary disciples engaged in the following of Jesus Christ. The session in which we have been gathered in Rome since 30 September is an important phase of this process. In many ways it has been an unprecedented experience. For the first time, at Pope Francis’ invitation, men and women have been invited, in virtue of their baptism, to sit at the same table to take part, not only in the discussions, but also in the voting process of this Assembly of the Synod of Bishops. Together, in the complementarity of our vocations, our charisms and our ministries, we have listened intensely to the Word of God and the experience of others. Using the conversation in the Spirit method, we have humbly shared the wealth and poverty of our communities from every continent, seeking to discern what the Holy Spirit wants to say to the Church today. We have thus also experienced the importance of fostering mutual exchanges between the Latin tradition and the traditions of Eastern Christianity. The participation of fraternal delegates from other Churches and Ecclesial Communities deeply enriched our discussions....

Clocks go back this weekend The further north you are from the equator, the greater the loss of light during the winter months. and its Halloween The experience of Halloween is not just for children but it also resonates with adults too. Halloween has its origins going right back to our Celtic ancestors who celebrated the feast of Samhain on Nov 1st. They celebrated the new year on this day because it was a time of transition from light to darkness. They also believed that the boundary between the living world and that of the dead was very thin, so much so that the spirits of the dead returned The tree’s shedding its leaves outside reminds us that November is here The leaves scattered under our feet are an anthem for the decline of another year. It’s no coincidence that November, the month of leaf-taking is also the time of the year when we remember the leave-taking of our beloved dead It’s natural to remember and it’s part of our nature to remember the dead because they are part of who we are.
